By a score of 8 to 5, the Thoroughbred baseball team of Lexington went down in defeat at the hands of the Lawmakers of Frankfort at the Bell Park Thursday afternoon. The winning runs were scored by the visiting team in the ninth, the Lawmakers drawing three hits off Scheneberg, besides a walk, and errors for Scheneberg and Kimbrough. At the end of the eighth the score was tied, each team having made five runs.

Both teams worked hard throughout the game, the result remaining in doubt until the last inning. The crowd was enthusiastic and was upon the tip of expectancy. Leo Angemeier went to the bat at the beginning of the ninth and fled to Ings. On an attempt to steal third, Wright was thrown out at third by Catch-Summer. On fumbles by Scheneberg and Kimbrough, Williams was safe at first, and Steele advanced to second. Allison hit safe, scoring Steele. Chapman, next at the bat, also hit safe, scoring Williams and Allison. On infield hit to shortstop, Crutcher was out at first.

The Thoroughbreds, not despairing, made a desperate effort to tie the score or run up a larger one. Scheneberg was first at the bat, but was out to catcher on a foul fly. Fieber made first on an error of Steele, at second. Ingels hit to infield; Weihe throwing to second; and advancing Ingels to third. Barnett went to bat, but Pitcher Wright's coolness and curves endured to the last, retiring the batter.

Catcher Sumner and Leo Angemeier held down their positions with credit. Tommy Sheets retired from the game in the second, after miffing a hard fly by Allison. He sent in Hayden, who received McCormick at centerfield, McCormick going to right.

The Frankfort team was accompanied by a large crowd of enthusiastic rooters.

The largest crowd of the season was on hand Sunday to witness the game of ball between the Nebraska Indians and the Lawmakers. The game was interesting from the time the umpire gave the signal to play ball until the ninth inning, when the score stood 5 to 2 in Frankfort's favor. The Indians played a magnificent game, with the exception of Pitcher Pigeon, who was in the box for the Red Skins. Cornell pitched a fine game for the Lawmakers, and was given fine support.

The Indians defeated Frankfort's crack team on Monday afternoon to the tune of 9 to 3. On account of having three league games this week, Capt. Nell placed Weihe, the third-sacker, in the box in order to save his twirlers for the out-of-town games.

ball, but here of late his batting eye has been good.

We believe that the Lawmakers would make no mistake if they would give "Nibs" Allison a chance occasionally in the box. He has proven on two different trials that he has a good ball, and a perfect head. There is no reason in the world why Allison can't make a pitcher. He has plenty of speed and knows the game from A to Z. If all the Lawmakers would play as hard as he does, it would be a hundred to one shot that the pennant would come to the Capital City.

A great many people in Lexington seem to think that the Lawmakers should be a great deal more material to their team, but they don't seem to realize that it takes money and a big lot of it to get good players. We will admit that we could greatly strengthen our team by a few fast ones, but how are we to get enough money to pay these boys? The gate receipts won't justify it. Now the only thing to do is to take up a subscription and employ these needed players. We believe that there are at least 20 fans in Frankfort who will be willing to give $5.00 per month for three months to help land the pennant of the Blue Grass League. Besides these, there are as many more who will donate a dollar or two each month, and in this way we will have a club that can hold their own with the best of 'em. Don't think that the little two-bits you give each game is making "Old Chick" and "Captain Dude" rich. Not on your life. Both of them would now be better off financially had they left base ball alone this season. Other towns have made up money for their boys, and why should Frankfort expect so much for nothing? Get busy, and let's have a big league team. We will start the ball rolling at the tune of $5.00 per month. Who's next?

Inasmuch as the street car company is reaping a big benefit out of the ball crowds, it does seem like they should put the grounds in a better condition. The field is in a horrible fix. It wouldn't cost much to fill in the low places and keep the grass cut down. Get a move on you, Sallee, and help us out.

The manager of the Nebraska Indian Club does not allow any of his men to smoke a cigarette or take a drink of whisky at any time. It is safe to say that they have no Kentuckians on the team.

The Lawmakers certainly knocked the Indian "Pigeon" out of his nest Sunday.

The Nebraska Indians were so well pleased with Frankfort and the treatment they received here that they are anxious to come back again.

Up to the time the Nebraska Indian bunch tackled our team Sunday they had played 56 games this season and had won 52. This don't look like they threw the game here, although there are some who think that the game was "fixed." The managers of both teams say there is no truth in this report, and that both clubs did their best to win.

A. D. McFarland, of Louisville, covered first base for the Lawmakers Sunday. Mr. McFarland is an old Frankfort boy, and pitched for a local team here eight or ten years ago when they played at Lake Park in Bellepoint.

Mace Williams played star ball Sunday by making nice catches in right field and landing on Pigeon's ball at the proper time.

The crack Richmond team will be here Sunday week, accompanied by three hundred rooters. The Lawmakers are determined to get revenge good and strong. Golden will be in the box for the boys from Madison, while Cornell will look after the Lawmakers' interests in the box. This will be the hardest fought game of the season, as both Richmond and Frankfort are trying to hold first place in the league.

Every team that have been here this year have been loud in their praise of the fair and impartial decisions of our crack umpire, "Tommy Galney" Newman. They all say that he is without a doubt the best in the entire league. Everybody looks alike to "Tommy" when it comes to ball playing, and his ruling is law with all.

For the first time in years the Colonels are having a touch of high life, as they now occupy the front seat in the American Association dash for the silk banner. The Louisville rooters are pulling hard for Burke and his players to remain at the top of the class.

The Versailles bunch will be here Sunday afternoon, and as the Aristocrats have tightened up considerably, a good, close game is expected. Cornell will be on the firing line for the Lawmakers, while Hagg will twirl for the visitors. The game will be called at three o'clock.

"Little Dick" Crutcher had an off day, Sunday, making two costly errors, but redeemed himself by dropping a good long one against the left field fence at an opportune time.

The Lawmakers now have by far the strongest and best all-around crowd of boys they have corralled this season, and from all indications, looks like they will stick until the season closes.

The fans of Versailles have subscribed $15.00 per month for their team, and Frankfort has not "coughed up" one cent to help our boys along. Let's wake up and help pull the boys out of the hole.

The Nebraska Indians won the game over the Shelby's Tuesday at Coots' Park, 16 to 2. Retsche started pitching, Indians scoring six runs in first inning. He was replaced by Sanders. Indians scored none in second, four in third, two in fourth, two in fifth and two in sixth. Shelby's scored 2 in ninth on Burge's two-sacker to right and Paul Long's home run to the same territory.—Shelby News.

The Nebraska Indians defeated Lawrenceburg Wednesday in one of the prettiest games of the season by a score of 1 to 0. A decision in the fifth inning by Umpire Sylvia, of the Indians, gave the game to the Nebraska Indians.

The Lawmakers play the Distillers at Lawrenceburg Wednesday.

IN SCRAP BOOK

Governor Keeps Clippings On Tobacco War.

EVERY ITEM BEARING ON SITUATION IS PASTED IN AND FILED AWAY.

If one wants to get a history of the tobacco troubles in Kentucky all one has to do is to borrow for a short while a big book which Gov. Willson has, and which he regards as very important. This volume is a scrapbook, and in it is pasted every article or news item or editorial bearing on the Kentucky tobacco situation, which is published in Kentucky or elsewhere. The Governor has kept every item which has appeared in the large dailies of Kentucky and in many of the papers in cities outside of the State. Miss Nora Brown keeps the book for him, and spends her spare time, when she has any, pasting the clippings into a big book.

Into this scrapbook go also editorials which are written about the tobacco situation. In fact, it is doubtful if a single item, bearing in any way on the tobacco situation, which has appeared in any paper or magazine during the last seven months has been omitted, and the Governor can learn all he wants to know from these clippings, or every possible phase of the situation is given.

This is only one of the Governor's scrapbooks. He has others. They are classified and divided as to subjects, and one of them contains purely personal things—things that are said about the Governor, Gov. Willson has all kinds of things put in whether they say nice things about him or not. Editorial comment, especially in the Kentucky papers, is saved and goes into the scrapbook, along with letters and telegrams which are of a personal nature and which one would want saved in a scrapbook.

The Governor has been keeping scrapbooks for many years, and has an accumulation that are very valuable not only to him but also for the general information contained in them. Miss Brown has been the Governor's stenographer for sixteen years, and she has been keeping the scrapbooks for that length of time. They stay in a safe in the office of Gov. Willson in Louisville, and are carefully protected, as it would be impossible to replace them. The Governor was the clippings pasted in the books so that he can find anything that he wants with little trouble, and he frequently uses the books to get information concerning something which has happened many years ago, perhaps. Since Mr. Willson became Governor the clippings have accumulated so rapidly that they are now beginning to fill up the books at a rapid rate, and a new supply will soon have to be bought.
